In Beyond the Walls: Sculptures from the New England Sculptors Association, current artists represented by the New England Sculptors Association display their works of ceramic, metal, stone, and other media throughout Fuller Craft Museum's 22-acre outdoor surroundings in Brockton, Massachusetts. With no unifying thematic focus, Beyond the Walls reflects a wide spectrum of artist predispositions and goals, including works that integrate novel forms, powerful narratives, eclectic uses of material, and creative techniques.

Get to Know NESAs

New England Sculptors Association (NESAs) was founded in 1948 by a group of sculptors, students, and teachers at the Museum School. A non profit organization for both established sculptors and aspiring students.

Their mission statement reads: "New England Sculptors Association (NESAs), est. 1948, supports established and emerging sculptors in achieving their highest potential and in connecting with fellow artists, curators and collectors. Together with our partners, we promote excellence in sculptural art and seek to inform, educate, and inspire the public throughout New England and beyond."

For more information visit their website, nesculptors.org.

Beyond the Walls promises to activate the beautiful grounds and courtyards of Fuller Craft with sculptures created by the top artists working in this region. It is our second collaboration with New England Sculptors Association, and we are pleased to partner with them to provide our visitors new ways in which to engage with contemporary art while experiencing the great outdoors.
